Student Drivers: The Parking Lot Situation

By. Gaby Hawkins

Being a fellow student driver, I went through a phase where driving was shiny and new and I loved driving everywhere. I still do love to drive everywhere. There is just one small problem; the parking situation in the student parking lot. This makes driving to school everyday a dreadful thing to do, when there are simple ways to fix the situation. The solutions may involve using some common sense, but we can get through this together.

If you are one of the first people in the parking lot in the morning, don't park in random places, park next to each other. Don't park in the middle of the lot so no one can park in a line next to you. It's annoying and a highly inconsiderate thing to do. Not only is it inconsiderate, it takes up valuable space that could be used for other students to park. Along with not parking in a straight line, there is no need to park several feet away from another car. This also takes up valuable space that could be used.

Blocking people in is also an issue and is just rude. It's good for a couple of laughs, but in reality it's just immature. Some students have to leave during the day for college and it is really hard when they cannot get out. Also, blocking outlets are not okay either. This causes even more annoyance and makes for more congestion when leaving the school parking lot after school.

Let's just use our heads when parking and be considerate to other student drivers. If we all did this, most of the problems with the parking lot would be solved.

Would You Rather

By: Hannah Barrett and Alexa Polsdorfer

Would you rather lose all of your old memories or never make new ones?

By: Alexa Polsdorfer and Hannah Barrett

20 students said they would rather lose all of their old memories

10 students said they would rather never make new ones

Rita McLaughlin: "Lose the old ones, so I can look forward to the new ones."

Gavin Kline: "Lose the old, I don't want to think of the storm."

Mckayla Knapp: "Lose the old, I have too much to look forward to."

Cody Kaiser: "Never make new, I have a lovely past."

Jarren Altman: "Lose the old, the good memories are yet to come."

Nathan Grine: "Lose old, have a fresh start and be a new person."

Ashley Mock: "Never make new, you're nothing without the old ones."

Sierra Richardson: "Never make new, otherwise you wouldn't understand inside jokes."

Students Win Regional Art Show

Liberty Center high school students Brianna Searle, Peyton Leatherman, Logan Foster, and Audra Foster recently qualified for the state level of the 2014 Ohio Governor's Youth Art Exhibit in the Region 5 contest. The regional judging was held in Napoleon on March 1st. These ladies were chosen from thousands of different artists. State judging will be held in Columbus.

Mystery Person

By: Sarah Yaney

This issue's mystery person is a senior. He/she has brown hair and green eyes. This person is involved in cheerleading. He/she has two siblings. Their favorite restaurant is none other than Olive Garden. You can find this person driving a black car to school, since he/she is now recently licensed.

*Last issue's mystery person was sophomore, Dylan Sexton.

Weekend Events

The movie which many people have been talking about, and the book they have been reading is finally coming to theaters this weekend. This movie is none other than Divergent. In the future, society is divided into five factions each representing a different virtue. When they come of age, teens are given a choice to stay in their chosen faction or to switch to a new one - a choice that they must stay with for the rest of their lives. But Tris Prior is different - a Divergent - a person who doesn't fit into any one class - and soon she discovers her perfect society is anything but as a conspiracy seeks to wipe out all Divergents. Make sure not to miss this big one!

Burning Questions

By: Hannah Barrett

If you had one day to live how would you spend it? Below are the responses of some Liberty Center students:

Henry Elling: I would color a white board black

Ashley Mock: I would have a living funeral

Mark Wood: I would probably just enjoy myself

Chloe Knapp: I would go to Italy and eat until my heart is content

Mr. Grim: I would spend it with my family

Peyton Leatherman: I would watch all my recordings on my DVR, I have to finish them all anyways

Brooks Hinton: I would go skydiving

Mrs. Tejkl: I would spend all day with my loved ones

Austin Bachman: I would go fourwheeling

Clare Long: I would go to a beach with my family

Spanish Club

By: Rachel Winterfeld

The winner of the t-shirt designs is the skull! Order forms will be handed out at the end of March and the price of the t-shirt has not been decided yet. Please buy a Spanish club t-shirt!

The officers will be planning more activities for Spanish club members for the next few months. Hopefully it warms up before the Mud Hens game!

Debate

The age at which you can legally drive varies from country to country. Usually you are allowed to take a driving test a year or more before you can vote or drink alcohol. So should something about this change? How would you feel if legally the driving age changed from 16 to 18?

By: Andrea Weirauch

I believe that changing the legal driving age to 18 would be a good solution. Although it is easier for students to drive to school and practice it would be a lot safer if adults were the only ones on the roads. Learning to drive is a major milestone in someone's life and I think that this milestone should go along with the milestone of turning 18. The leading cause of death of people ages 16-18 is car accidents. There could be so many teen deaths prevented if the age was increased.

By: Sarah Yaney

I do not believe that this should be a solution. For many young people being able to drive is essential to their livelihood. When you are in high school many people participate in sports, which have practices after school hours, leaving you the option to either wait for a parent for a ride home or have the privilege the drive yourself home. If anything having the responsibility of being able to drive helps you become responsible, and grow up. Being a high school student and able to drive yourself around is also less of a burden on your parents, allowing them to not have to take time off of a job to be able to drive their teenager around.

Recent News Of LC

Blood Drive

By: Rachel Winterfeld

Liberty Center recently hosted a blood drive for the students. Jack Krueger had a lot of things to say about the students here at LC. When asked to say a few words about the blood drives here, Jack replied with "I am so pleased with the reaction of the students here at LC and the students in National Honor Society. We set a goal of 50 or more donors each time, and we have reached our goals with the cooperation of the students. Fantastic students who worked very hard and they have done a good job. The most exciting thing is the students who giving blood each year. Every blood drive, there are always first time donors we pull in to give blood. Good job overcoming the fear. This is just a way of getting the students involved in giving blood. Thank you for all of your time and for donating blood." Jack Krueger is very pleased with the outcome of each blood drive and students are encouraged to keep donating!

Sports

Wrestling State Wrestling

By: Hunter Carnahan

Ohio high school state wrestling was jam packed this year and was very intense! Even though the Tigers did not have anyone qualify to the state tournament, there was still wrestlers in the NWOAL that made it and are worth mentioning. The Delta Panthers had over 10 wrestlers that qualified and had multiple placers. Those include state runner-up Kyle Keller. Third placers Jake Spiess, Drew Mattin, Tyler Fahrer. Patrick Henry also had Kent Peterson a freshman, go to the state tournament but did not place. Delta ended up winning the DIII High School State Title in overall points. The DII winner was Saint Paris Graham and DI was Saint Edwards. Mickey Jordan is a wrestler from Saint Paris Graham and became one of many to achieve a 4X state title honor.

Awards Awards Awards!

By: Alexa Polsdorfer

Tuesday March 18, 2014 was the basketball/cheerleading awards banquet. The banquet was smoothly run by head coach Greg Badenhop. It was an emotional time for volunteer coach Glen Badenhop because he announced it was his last year of coaching. He was a great coach to the team and he will be greatly missed.

On the awards side there were many special award given out. On the cheerleading side special awards went to Katherine Bell, Best Jumps; Lexi Davis, Top Tumbler; Alexa Polsdorfer, Leadership; and Allison Righi, Coaches Award. Boys receiving special awards were Kaleb Pohlman, M.V.P; Kam Pohlman, Edge Award; Logan Meyer, Clutch Performer; Jarren Altman and Jared Dishop, Most Improved; and Matt Huber, Defensive M.V.P.

Tiger of the Week

By: Brittany Atkinson and Andrea Weirauch

This week's Tiger of the Week is Nick "Big Cat" Demaline. Nick destroyed at the indoor track and field state championships and won the shot put event with a bomb of a throw that measured 63 feet 8 inches. His competition was later seen crying in fear. Last year as a junior Nick placed second in the shot put at the outdoor OHSAA state championships with a throw of 59 feet 11 3/4 inches. Nick has been lifting semi trucks and breaking concrete in order to get ready for the upcoming season. He looks to bring home the gold medal in June to wrap up an outstanding throwing career. Growl on Big Cat!

Liberty Center Cheerleading

By: Hannah Barrett

The Liberty Center competition cheerleading team competed at the OASSA high school state cheerleading competition on Sunday, March 16, 2014. The team competed in Division III non-mounting against 11 other teams. The members of the team include; Hannah Barrett, Katherine Bell, Kayla Murrey, Allison Righi, Alaina Kessler, Monica Mann, Lexi Davis, and Jenna Vollmar. The team is led by coaches Shelly Davis, and Liz Spangler. The team competed and placed 7th out of the 12 teams. Saint Clairsville won the Division III non-mounting overall. The competition team believes that they did their very best at the competition and gave it their all. The team was also very grateful for all support from their fellow classmates, and from members of the community. Thank you for everyone who came out on Sunday to watch the girls compete! Go Tigers! #TigerPride

Couples Corner

Shaina Baldwin and Zach Sidel

By: Brittany Atkinson

This week's featured couple is Shaina Baldwin and Zachary Sidel. They have been dating for over a month now. They enjoy long, quiet fishing trips and bowling strikes at the bowling alley. Zach recently asked her to prom by filling a tackle box attached to a cute poster with sour gummy worms. Shaina of course said yes. Wow such game. You can find this couple in perfect harmony because they have never, ever fought physically or verbally.

Teacher Spotlight

By: Kennedy Wood

Mr. Readshaw is in the teacher spotlight this week! Mr. Readshaw has been teaching at Liberty Center for about 9 years. His favorite part about Liberty Center is that the kids are really good and the community is supportive. High school had a strong influence on Mr. Readshaw in his choice to become an ag teacher. Since he grew up on a farm, ag seemed like a good fit. His favorite part about teaching ag is that there is never a dull moment. There is always something different happening. In his spare time, Mr. Readshaw enjoys hunting, fishing, and hanging out with his kids, Caden, Cason, Cale, and Calleigh.
